

Method for removing N_2O during the production of nitric acid

Abstract

- 5 N_2O is removed in nitric acid manufacture by using catalysts comprising three-dimensional structures coated with catalytically active materials.